

THE SPORTS COMMISSION ASSOCIATES

The St. Louis Sports Commission Associates group consists of area young professionals who volunteer to support the Sports Commission's efforts. Created in 2007, the group seeks to cultivate and harness the interest, energy and enthusiasm of young professionals in St. Louis to help the Sports Commission fulfill its mission to make the region a better place to live, visit, work and play through sports. Associates have the opportunity to volunteer for Sports Commission events, participate in the organization's activities, and attend business and social meetings hosted by the group.

Associates membership is open to anyone wishing to support the Sports Commission's mission. To help fund its activities and to demonstrate a commitment to the group, Associates are asked to pay annual membership dues of $50. The components of Associates membership include:

- A direct link to rewarding volunteer opportunities and experiences that make a positive impact on the region through sports.
- Participation in Associates business / social meetings during the year.
- Access to purchase seats for selected Sports Commission events ahead of the general public.

The Associates group is governed by its own board, which establishes the group's priorities, sets its agenda, and defines its direction and involvement in Sports Commission events and projects. Associates members who become engaged in the group's activities will receive future consideration to occupy seats on the board.
